FOREWORD

THE 1922 Senior Class can sense a deeper pride in the privilege of picturing Ohio University than could any previous class. It has been our pleasure to mirror the greatest year the University has ever seen. We have had a remarkable increase in numbers. Resources and definite plans for growth have been given adequate consideration. Our phenomenal development has not alone been of material prosperity, but of the biggest and most difficult growth, that of spirit. Students seek ideals and aims that are loftier. This is evidenced by their habits and actions. We the compilers of the present Athena have striven to truthfully reflect such a situation. We hope to please, and trust that we have succeeded to some degree in sincerely portraying Ohio University.

History of the Origin and Growth of the University

HIO UNIVERSITY is the oldest institution of higher learning in the Northwest Territory. It was originally planned and provided for by Manasseh Cutler as early as 1787, when he completed the contract on behalf of the Ohio Company for the purchase of a tract of land in southern Ohio. Dr. Cutler was not content with simply providing for the institution in the original contract, but was so desirous that it should not fail of its purpose that he prepared the outlines of the plan for its organization and management as well as its first curriculum.

He gave the matter intensive consideration and spent much time consulting the charters of like institutions in both Europe and America, with the view of adopting one that would be as clear and as well defined as possible. What he most desired was that the college should be founded on principles of permanent value. He finally concluded that Yale and Harvard more nearly fulfilled his liberal and extensive plans and in the end he took his model largely from these early colleges. Too much credit cannot be given Dr. Cutler for the creation and successful establishment of the university, which was the first educational institution to be endowed by Congress. In justice to him and to his untiring efforts he is rightly entitled to be called the "Father of the Ohio University," and his name should be forever coupled with its career and history.

On account of lack of funds as well as time in which to devise and carry the plans into execution, the university was not opened to students until 1809, when it began its career with a total enrollment of three. None of these, however, remained long enough to graduate. Six years later Thomas Ewing and John Hunter received the first degrees granted in the northwest territory. Due to depressed financial support and lack of attendance, college work was suspended at Ohio University between the years 1845 and 1848. This was the first and only time in its history that the college has been inactive. Since then it has become necessary for the state to make a direct appropriation of funds for the support of the institution. The right and justice of such action arises, in part, from the fact that the state, in the course of various enactments by its legislature, restricted the valuation of the lands set aside and leased for the maintenance of a university.

The first act of the legislature, directly yielding or contributing aid in lieu of increased land rental was passed in 1875. This act was fraught with vital significance, as it was, in effect, the entering wedge which made possible the present status of our Alma Mater. Previous to this enactment the financial condition of the institution excited deep concern and anxiety on the part of its friends and those entrusted with its management. Because of lack of funds it was impossible to keep efficient instructors for any length of time and the building equipment was wholly inadequate to meet the needs of the student body. But these perilous times were safely bridged and after more than a century of growth and progress, Ohio has emerged and has started on a better and brighter era.

From time to time new buildings have been erected on the campus and new departments have been added to those already existing, and we justly honor all persons who have been in any way instrumental in bringing about these much needed changes. However, it is necessary that we have more concern for the future than for the past. Never have the prospects of the university been brighter than at present. The trustees are to be congratulated in securing Dr. Bryan to guide the policies of the institution thruout the coming years. Already the faculty and student body have been impressed with the unusual capabilities of the new college head. At no previous time has Ohio been directed in its policies and activities by a man so thoroughly fitted for the task as President Bryan. In the past year the university has grown by leaps and bounds and with its present resources and advantages it will no doubt become a leader among the smaller universities of the middle west during the next few years.

Alma Mater, Ohio
Alma Mater, brave and fair;
Alma Mater, we hail thee
For we own thy kindly care.
Alma Mater, Ohio,
As we read thy story o'er;
We revere thee, and cheer thee
As we sing thy praise once more.

GYMNASIUM

EVENTS

Annual Reception Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A.

THE Annual Reception of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. was held Friday evening, September 16, at the "Varsity" gymnasium. Never before in the history of O. U. have students responded so well and made the annual mixer such a crowning success. The dorms were empty, the frat houses vacant, and the streets deserted; everyone was at the Gym. smiling, laughing, and talking, greeting old friends and meeting new. The social life was centered not in clics and clans, but in one large joyous family with true college spirit and friendliness.

President and Mrs. Bryan, Dr. and Mrs. Chubb, Maude Skidmore, President of Y. W. C. A., and Mark Cowen, President of Y. M. C. A., welcomed the students. Dr. Martzolf gave a very interesting talk, welcoming the students and relating the traditions and customs of Ohio University. Miss Dorothy Kennedy sang and Miss Frances Hunker entertained with a piano selection. The whole evening was one of enjoyment. The affair was one which fosters the right kind of college attitude and creates a greater loyalty to our Alma Mater.

Inaugural Exercises

Amid distinguished guests, prominent men of the state, and delegates from nearly every educational institution in Ohio, Dr. Elmer Burritt Bryan was formally inaugurated as tenth president of Ohio University on Friday, November the fourth, 1921.

That Dr. Bryan is equipped with those qualities which are needed in the discharge of the duties of a university executive is evident by the complete training and wide and varied experience which he has had.

The program for the day began at eleven o'clock, when the distinguished guests, state officials, educators and alumni were entertained by the Athens Chamber of Commerce at luncheon, in the Student's Union.

Then at twelve-thirty the Academic procession formed at Ellis Hall and marched north to the famous McGuffey Elms, west to the Alumni Gateway, then proceeded to Ewing Hall, where the exercises were held. The procession was led by Dr. Bryan, Governor Davis, and Drs. Super and Scott, former presidents of Ohio University. They were followed by the University Trustees, the Faculty and State officials, visiting delegates, and alumni in the order named. The students had formed by classes on either side of the walk and when the procession passed they followed to the Auditorium, in the order of rank.

The inaugural exercises were opened with an invocation by the Chaplain of the day, Dr. W. O. Thompson, President of Ohio State University, followed by music by the University Choral Society.

Governor Davis, as representative of the commonwealth of Ohio, made the opening address, in which he paid tribute to the age and comparatively ancient origin of the University and after praising Dr. Bryan, wished him Godspeed in the performance of his duties.

The oath was administered and the charter of the University delivered by E. J. Jones, an alumnus of O. U. and president of the University Board of Trustees.

In his inaugural address, Dr. Bryan said that his position offered opportunities for service and that he hoped he would merit the trust that had been placed in him by his selection. The theme of his address was a consideration of the meaning of education, the human element in education, and the soul of education. "Education means development and leads to the realization of all the powers with which human beings are endowed. Every problem in our structure of civilization is a human problem and is to be solved by the application of human effort."

In closing, Dr. Bryan said: "I shall never be satisfied in the years that stretch out before me unless Ohio University is a place where young men and young women may be developed physically, mentally, and morally; unless, when they leave after spending four years here, they take with them the nobler and more valuable qualities of life. In order to live, Ohio University must measure up to such a standard. It is an institution with a soul and, like a man, if it loses its soul, it loses all."

Addresses were also given by President Parsons of Marietta College, representing the privately endowed institutions, and President Hughes of Miami University, representing the state supported institutions of Ohio, in which they brought greetings to Dr. Bryan and wished him success.

Dr. Clement Martzloff, Secretary of the Alumni Association, was the bearer of a message of loyalty from Ohio's many sons and daughters in different parts of the world and pledged the hearty support of all alumni to the new administration.

Football Banquet

THE real climax of the football season came with the men's big feed given by the Y. M. C. A. at the Student Union on Tuesday evening, November 29, in honor of Dr. Bryan and the football team. Three hundred men were present to express their gratitude for the efforts displayed during the hard fought battles of the season.

With Dean Chubb acting as toastmaster, the Freshman Orchestra furnishing the music, and several persons of prominence in athletic circles giving speeches, the affair will always remain as a pleasant memory. Those who responded with toasts were Assistant Coach Grover, Captain Fuller, Paul Andrew, Congressman Foster, and President Bryan.

President Bryan emphasized the need of a spirit of cooperation and suggested that the motto "Each for All and All for Each" be followed to the limit.

Founders' Day Exercises

With Chancellor E. H. Lindley of the University of Kansas here as the principal speaker, the Founders' Day exercises on February 18 were especially fitting and appropriate. At the morning session, Chancellor Lindley spoke on "The New Pioneer," showing that plenty yet remained to be achieved in the solution of the great problems that confront us. He said that pioneers are more in demand than ever before.

Chancellor Lindley also addressed the alumni and the seniors at the alumni luncheon given at noon in the Student Union. At this meeting the alumni pledged a hearty support to the drive to be conducted for the $300,000 memorial chapel.

A Visit to the Doll Show

To think of it raining this night of all nights, but then it generally rains the day of our Doll Show, doesn't it? And say, did you see Mary Helen Lee in "I Ain't Nobody's Darlin'," this afternoon? Didn't she look too cute for words in that little dress suit and — her voice? She surely is a natural born actress, I think. Oh, yes! the Freshmen were as clever as ever. Daggett and Liggett ought to go out for Keith's. And Ferol Strickland sure showed her loyalty, when she snatched time from her busy routine as school marm, and sends us a skit like "Ham."

Let's go the rounds now and not miss a thing. But we don't want to go to this cheap show—anyway it's for men only—here's the flower booth, though, and these narcissus are pretty. I believe I'll take a poinsettia. They are so much like Christmas time.

Now shall we go fishing? No—you don't want to? Well, say, doesn't that look just like "Huckleberry Finn" there with that fishing pole? And, Oh girls! I'm going to the post-office. See what I got—a candle! It will surely be handy when I don't want to put my light out at ten o'clock.

The doll booths—aren't they lovely? And so many different kinds—all dressed so cleverly, too. The little old-fashioned one in pink and blue and the pretty bonnet—and she even has kid gloves—is my choice. I'll vote for her as the best dressed.

Then here are gingham aprons, too. And, Oh girls! here is Ada Kennedy. Yes, we must stop and have tea and in the meantime hear about the "tall dark men and the light ones." Well if here isn't a Christmas tree and a mystery bowl, and girls! this pretty Japanese booth! With the Japanese lady and all the lanterns 'n everything. I must stop here and buy something.

Give me a chance on the Victrola, and Oh! some of this good candy. All home made, too! Made by O. U. girls! Yes, some mints and divinity if you please. I really haven't a cent left, but I'm going to look at things a while longer.

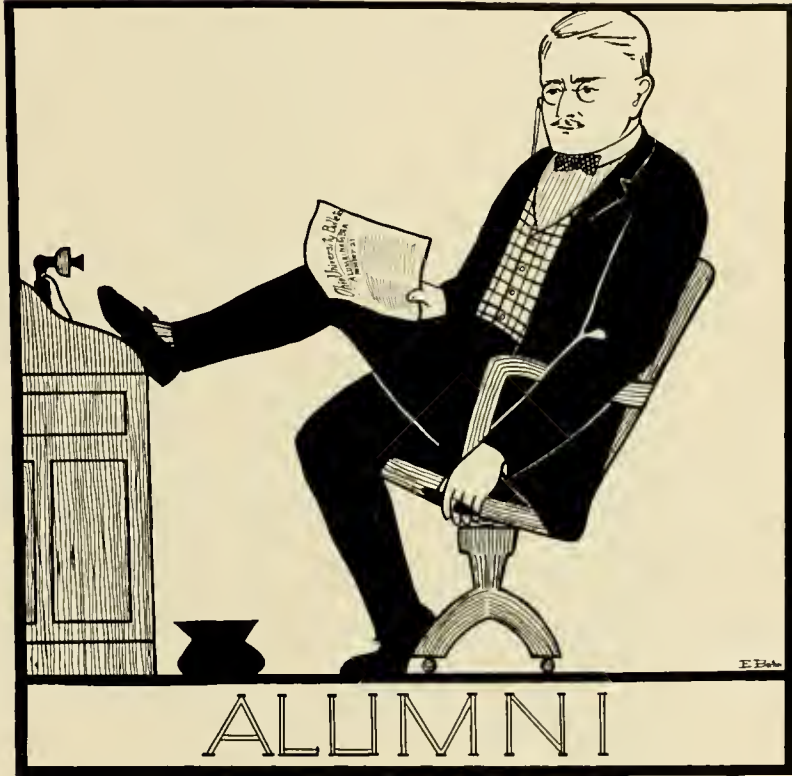

W-H-I-Z Bang!

On the night of November fourth the sons and daughters of Ohio gathered in Ewing Hall prepared to welcome the new President with an unusual demonstration of student enthusiasm. Previous to this, committees talked in whispers and except for a chosen few, faculty members were barred from all preliminary meetings. An air of mystery engulfed the campus and pervaded every student organization.

Promptly at seven-thirty Dr. Bryan appeared at the entrance of the auditorium and his arrival was greeted with a mad outburst of applause and college songs. Immediately following this, Miss Hawkins sang a beautiful tribute of welcome to the honored guest and the president of the senior class presented him with a huge basket of chrysanthemums in behalf of the student body.

Dr. Bryan responded with a brief but touching message of appreciation, which will linger long in the hearts of those to whom it was directed. The remainder of the program consisted of original skits presented by the four classes. At the close of the exercises Pres. Bryan was escorted to his car, and, followed by the student body, led the way to the athletic field. Here, already, the flames of a bonfire leaped upward and as the students circled around it in a huge "O" formation the brightening light disclosed the following words suspended above them:

"Welcome, Dr. Bryan."

Alumni Memorial Hall

The Alumni Association of Ohio University has planned a $300,000 memorial hall for Ohio University, to be built in the near future. The plans for presenting the old school with this structure were formulated by the executive committee of the Association and first made public at the annual banquet of the Columbus Chapter on February 11, 1922. The hall will fill a long wanted need as the present auditorium will seat but two-thirds the student body. The site of the new structure has not been determined, but will probably face the campus. A gift of this kind shows that our Alumni are proud of Ohio University and are helping her to become a greater Ohio.

Modest Compliance

You ask, Athena, that I turn aside
 From making laugh-starved people tearyeyed
 With cachinnation over various things
 Of which my muse, clad like Jierrot, sings.

Therefor I hereupon invite my soul
 And let my eyes "in a fine frenzy roll"
 To see if I can conjure up, meanwhile,
 Some thought that holds the kernel of a smile.

Alas! It is as if someone had said
 "Oh, please be funny!" Straight from out my head
 All humor flies at such inane request
 And won't return although I coax my best.

If there's a booby prize I've surely won it.
 But you just said: "Write something," and
 I've done it.

AMOS KINCAID

JUNIOR CLASS

OFFICERS

AMOS KINCAID	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	President
WILLIAM WALSH	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Vice-President
KATHRYN MUMMA	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Secretary
ELIZABETH WALKER	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Treasurer

Oh, certainly, the Junior Class of '22 boasts of bobbed haired girlies, too. From the fair city of Marion comes Geneva Smith and, listen, boys, she is a Home Economics student. Some fellow should take the hint.

Here's Kennard, from Painesville. We don't know as to his ancestors, but wonder if he hasn't the Penn characteristics.

And where is this town of Uhrichsville? It seems we've heard of it before. And from the quality of O. U. students who claim it as their abode we should say it's "some little burg." At least that's what Craig Bond says.

Yes, here's Jo Williams from Niles, Ohio—no, not Egypt—and she's another good cook, too. At least Miss Eccles says so.

Is there anyone who hasn't seen this face? How could O. U. exist without the benign influence of Fern Falloon? We wouldn't even have a Green Goat without mentioning the many minor benefits.

Robert Bingham Ramley, our famous student from Harrisonville, Ohio. He came with the idea of "work," and let us say he has lived up to it.

Certainly, West Virginia sends many fair daughters and manly sons to old O. U. and here is Robert Haws, from Ceredo.

Regina Gross, of Athens, does not hesitate at anything and her ability is not doubted.

From Lancaster comes Verena White. She is an industrious worker, and we're sure she will deserve her B.S. in Education next year.

Ah, here's Jimmie Nolan! Yes, from Bowerstown, and we agree, he's quite a genius along certain lines, of course.

Nelle Goddard is another girl we're mighty proud of. We hope she may not forget O. U. when she goes home to Cutler.

Here's Frenchie, that is, David French, from Harrisonville. He has initiative and backbone, two qualities very necessary to a successful man.

Yes, we agree that Bob Soule is one of the busiest men on the campus—business manager of The Green Goat, the Green and White, and the Men's Glee Club; certainly requires business ability. And, girls, he wanted a wife—at least so he says.

Dena Campbell, from Belpre, we think is the kind of a girl who will always uphold our standards in her life's work.

Where is Bartlett? Does anyone know? Well Anna Phipps lives there, and she is sure some girl.

From Lucasville we have George Hickman, a good student and a good sport, too.

Yes, this is none other than our old friend, Madison. He comes from Geneva, Ohio, and has been here many years. We hope he may stay longer still, and we wonder which way the wind is blowing now.

A very artful student is Sina Sidwell—in more ways than one, we should say. And what good looking posters she does make.

Anna Ludwig seems a clever girl indeed, and she is from Port Washington, Ohio, too.

From that far away miners' town, New Marshfield, comes Leslie Dabritz to our Alma Mater.

As for work, we do not hesitate to say that Eileen Wagoner cannot be beat. She looks so frail and slender, but looks are sometimes deceiving. As president of Women's League next year, the girls are expecting she will give them some surprises.

From the country near Cheshire our classmate, Gilbert Shaver, comes. He does not hesitate to speak the truth, and always follows the dictates of his conscience.

Herrold Hull never gets the common disease of O. U. students — homesickness. He comes from Athens and with him, Velma Stewart, a girl of whom we are very proud. These Athenians are certainly like the Greeks of ancient Athens, some learned people.

From Pomeroy we have Rowena Cherrington, a girl who never fails to do her part. And one that can be counted on.

Here's John Dixon, from Murray, Ohio, a mighty fine fellow, we should say, and one we will regret to lose.

Then, Arthur Rhollans, another Athenian, who is the good sport no matter what may happen.

Here's another student, who may possess Quaker characteristics. Yes, she was born in Pennsylvania, but comes to us from Cambridge.

Grace Bell, a quiet, unassuming little girl.

And does anyone wish to visit Circle Hill? Gloria Wysner will surely be willing to take you. Yes, she is one of our good Samaritans and, besides, a good actress. Remember the Lottery Man and the fat lady?

Roudolph Porter, another Manly son of our neighboring state, West Virginia. Yes, he admits there is no place quite like old O. U.

Yes, the little, quiet girl with the large glasses is Kathryn Mumma, from Fostoria. Very unaffected and sincere, we should judge, and quite the kind of girl we all like.

Here is really a Quaker from Quaker Town. Donald Lewis Stephens, from Wilmington, Ohio, but let us say we are indeed glad to have him, and to hear him sing and play. We do not think he waits for the spirit to move him.

From Detroit, Michigan, there came Ralph Wharton Wilkins, whom we all are glad to acknowledge.

Then here's our own dear Ellen, from Nelsonville. We were indeed glad she had the desire and perseverance to be with us again this year.

Mrs. Vivian Michael, from Ashville, keeps one always in good spirits, and is a good student besides.

From Albany comes to us Vaugh Howard Chase, a ladies' man and a good sport.

Yes, here's Asa Hoskins, our old friend from Pomeroy. We couldn't do without him at all.

Here's a girl with sweet brown eyes, from Peebles—some little town. Mary Tener, of course. Everyone knows her or of her. She's the kind that's always ready and willing to help anyone. And she always makes A's, too. But don't ask her how she likes Geology. We warn you!

Mabel Hamblin, a girl who perseveres and will succeed, we are certain. She comes from Toledo.

Ralph Ferdinand Beckert, alias Sid, from Piqua, Ohio. He certainly lives up to his kingly name.

Yes, we all agree that Beatrice Roberts is a "peach." She, too, has followed the fashion and shorn her lovely tresses. But, what's the difference. She's "B" just the same.

None other than the ladies' man, Dewey Goddard, from Albany. Oh, yes, every girl knows him, and alas! it is feared that he has broken many fair hearts.

This is a good sport, indeed, Dewitt Doney, from Columbus. He knows just what to say at just the right moment.

Leona Clark is a girl who makes good grades and always does the work. No, indeed, she doesn't try to run a bluff. We wonder if there are any others like her from Willard?

Mary Helen Dailey is indeed a good sport and a true college girl from Athens.

From Buchannon, W. Va., we have with us Charles Warfield, a student who takes everything seriously and does not see the frivolous side of life.

Clarence Lucas, from Youngstown, we are surely glad to say is an O. U. student.

Rhodapearl Bayha—where did they ever find the name? We don't know. But, anyway, for all that, she is a typical O. U. student.

This little dark haired girl is Marie Deffenbaugh, from Lancaster, Ohio. Yes, she's quiet and thoughtful, but nevertheless the kind of a girl we all like to have as a true friend.

Howard Hayle—not Maybe—is another classmate from Belpre, Ohio.

Thelma Garrison tells us she is from Williamsport, Ohio, and it is quite a town, she says. We don't know, but someday we may find out.

Who is Mildred Norcross from Sidney? Oh, why that is "Mickey," of course. They wrote that song about her, didn't they? Well, she sure is one that any fellow might fall in love with—easily, too.

Then here is Mary Lower, from Amanda, Ohio, we think she will surely make a good school teacher.

And Edith Snyder, from Mt. Hope, Ohio, who is last, but not least, in our Junior Class picture.

The Silver Mirror

The Silver Mirror page contains the photographs of three popular co-ed students of Ohio University.

Their selection was made by the student body thru the voting of the Silver Mirror Coupon.

The voting on the second part of the coupon made the selection of Ohio's three best campus citizens.

The choice was made, primarily, for the attitude of these students toward the University and its activities. Fairness and willingness to help others played its part. Lastly, they have been judged by the test of democracy, which embodies the power to stand for the best.

For Your Approval,

EMMA JANE HELSEL,

The Athletic Section of the Athena is dedicated to Ohio's New Gymnasium.
Better facilities for physical education, and the more thorough development of athletes be-speaks a greater "Ohio U." * * *

The New Gymnasium

Real athletics are in store for Ohio University. The old gymnasium has been found to be inadequate for the newer and bigger needs of the university, so, in line with the policy of growth and expansion, a new building with greater accommodations is to be erected.

The new building will cost $200,000 and will be situated back of Lindley Hall between the Phi Delta Theta House and the Beta Theta Pi House and fronting toward the river. It will be so constructed that there will be three basketball courts and when only one is in use the others can be utilized for seating purposes.

"THOR" OLSON

Physical Education

A feature of university life with which all students come into contact during the course of their college careers, is that of training in physical education. In order to comply with the requirements for graduation, every person must secure credit for one year's work in the gymnasium.

With Thor Olson and Miss Carson in charge respectively of the men and women, Ohio University can boast of a very efficient department in physical instruction. Thor is well qualified from training received in various gymnasium schools to undertake the work. His well-known ability as a wrestler and his unexcelled endurance stand him in good stead.

The regular procedure consists of track work, a great variety of setting-up exercises and numerous contests in small athletic features. Special classes in swimming, boxing, fencing, dancing and wrestling are also given.

At the end of the semester a physical efficiency test is given to the men. It consists of rope climbing, running, high jump, bar-vault, the dip, and swimming. The semester grade is determined by the showing in the examination. In order to secure an A, a student must climb an eighteen-foot rope in twelve seconds, dip ten times, run 178 yards in 23 seconds, vault five feet, jump four feet and six inches, and do some fancy stunts in swimming.

The examination is helpful in creating a spirit of interest in indoor exercises. A grade of A or B is prerequisite to entrance into the special classes of boxing, fencing, etc., and thus a premium is put on the able student who is prepared to advance further in the work.

An athletic carnival in which the men displayed their progress in physical education is held during the second semester. The students go thru the drill exercises in which they have been trained thru the year and also put on many stunts in addition.

Physical education is gaining in importance and is growing by leaps and bounds. From the universities, it is being introduced into the high school where it plays a big part in keeping the student fit mentally as well as physically. Many students in the university have taken the work thruout their college course and as a result have always kept in fine shape. It helps more than anything else to get rid of that tired feeling which masters so many students. An attendance at the morning's Gym class will carry one triumphantly thru the efforts of the day.

FINSTERWALD, Coach

"Jube's" work speaks for itself. He enjoys the respect and confidence of his men and of the student body of Ohio University.

His athletic prowess is known throughout the state. He was a member of the All-Ohio football team and while at Syracuse he was given honorable mention by Walter Camp for the All-American.

GROVER

Assistant Coach and Graduate Manager

"Butch" aided greatly in rounding into shape the teams that have represented Ohio University. The team's interests were his interests. He gave freely of his efforts that the teams he worked with might be successful.

Columbia Game

In this past football season of 1921 teams from the West have journeyed East and brought home the big end of the scores, leaving the much tooted Eastern football world in a daze. Ohio University kicked over the dope bucket when on November 12th, she defeated Columbia University. Columbia outweighed Ohio fifteen pounds to the man and had the advantage of playing on her own field. The Ohio team entered the fray with the old time fighting spirit. Although the whole line had to be shifted during the game on account of injuries, the team fought with the same aggressiveness. "Bren" Poling, Ohio's speedy half-back, started the scoring when he ran ninety-five yards through the entire Columbia team for a touchdown. In only one period of the game did the big New Yorkers take the offensive. This was in the second quarter. Columbia secured her only tallies of the game in this period making three touchdowns in rapid succession. The Green and White team rallied its defence, and throughout the remainder of the game Columbia was unable to gain. When the final whistle sounded, Ohio had annexed 23 points, while Columbia had secured but 21.

The Football Season of 1921

AMOS KINCAID

The beginning of the 1921 football season found Ohio University facing the hardest schedule of its history. The material for the team, however, was excellent and a good season was looked forward to. Nine games were played. Four were won, four lost, and one was a tie game. Morris-Harvey was the first team met. The result was Ohio 10, Morris-Harvey 0. The Syracuse game resulted in a 38-0 defeat. The score does not indicate the type of game played by Ohio. In the last part of the game Ohio's defence stiffened and Syracuse was unable to gain. The heavy Bethany team took Ohio over to the tune of 13-0. In the West Virginia game Ohio showed real fight. The only touchdown of the game came when West Virginia's left half got away for forty-seven yards. The game ended West Virginia 7, Ohio University 0. The big disappointment came when Ohio U. was defeated by Denison 14-7. The school en masse followed the team to Granville. One of the big causes of defeat was the fact that Jefferson, center, was declared ineligible the night before the game. Through the effort of the public spirited citizens of Athens the American Legion Band was sent with the rooters to Granville. Baldwin-Wallace met defeat at the hands of Ohio 35-0. The home-coming game with Cincinnati was an excellent game. Cincinnati's one marker was the result of an intercepted forward pass. The "Bear Cats" were unable to cross our line again. Hundreds of Alumni saw the Green and White fight their way to a 7 to 6 victory. Eastern football was again forced to bow to the West when Ohio University journeyed to New York and took Columbia's scallop, defeating that outfit 23 to 21. The last game of the season was played with Marietta on a very wet and heavy field. Marietta surprised football critics by holding Ohio University to a scoreless tie.

The school loses four men this June. Captain Fuller, Earich, Jefferson, and Loomis. Captain Fuller placed on the 1920 All-Ohio, he is also a star on the baseball diamond. Jefferson is a member of the 1921 All-Ohio team. "Jeff's" place at center will be hard to fill. Earich for the last three years has received honorable mention and this last fall was placed on the second All-Ohio. Earich's loss will be felt in basketball and baseball as well as on the gridiron. Loomis played a heady game at quarter this fall.

Next year ten letter men will be eligible for Varsity. The Freshman squad of this year will be on hand to fight for places on the Ohio team. With these men to form the squad, next year's football should be a source of pride to the University.

Francis Fuller, Halfback—Captain

"Peg," playing his fourth year in the backfield for the Green and White squad, displayed to the public his ability to all followers of the pigskin game. In the fall of 1920 he was chosen on the mythical All-Ohio eleven. Ohio U. will mourn the loss of Captain Fuller, as his loss will be keenly felt on the football field and baseball diamond.

SIMEON EARICH, End

"Sim" has played his last game for Ohio University. Entering Ohio University during the S. A. T. C. period, Coach Gullum, then football coach, called on "Swede" to hold down one of the guard positions. This he did for two years and the last two years he has been playing end. "Sim" received honorable mention for All-Ohio. His ability in snagging forward passes out of the air make him one of the most valuable men on the squad.

JEFFERSON, Center

"Big "Jeff" was picked by sport writers as center on the All-Ohio second team. As a defensive center the big West Virginia boy could not be beat. This is his last year and his loss to the Ohio team will be a great one. When he roved along behind the Green and White line watching the opponents, trouble was always brewing, and not many plays got by "Jeff."

GUY FIBER, Fullback Captain, 1922

"Fib" came to us after playing one year with W. & J. The big Ohio fullback is rated as the greatest defensive man ever seen on an Ohio gridiron. At West Virginia and Syracuse, Fibre went over the line and threw the opposing backs for losses numerous times. Recognizing his worth, the team elected Fibre to lead the 1922 squad.

ROBERT LOOMIS, Quarterback

Loomis played the hardest position on the team this year. At the opening of the season, Finsterwald found himself without a quarterback and he picked Loomis to work this job. "Bob" worked hard at it and in every game gave his all. His passing in the Denison game was a surprise to the fans. Loomis always played hard and worked for the Ohio bunch every minute he was in.

JAMES WADE, Tackle

"Jim" was a tower of strength on the line. The opponents always found in him a tough boy to handle and never attempted anything through his side of the line. Wade has just closed his second year on the Ohio line and the team will look forward to his return next year.

FISHER, Guard

Fisher, although much lighter than the rest of the Ohio line, made up for his lack of weight in aggressiveness. "Fish" didn't start many games at the early part of the season, but as time went on he proved to the coaching staff that he was a fighter and needed a chance. The Columbia team will not soon forget Fisher, for he broke up several punts the New York team attempted to pull off. His aggressiveness won him state-wide fame and he was placed on the All-Ohio second team.

VIRGIL POPE, End

Pope was to be found in the middle of every play. He tackled hard and few were the gains that were made around his end. Virgil will be with us next fall.

HARLEY LITTLER, Halfback

He has been termed "Dutch" around Athens and Ohio University, a Jap at Syracuse and a Swede at some other places, but all places know full well that he can play football. In the nine games played this year this "stocky" back was in all games and never had time taken out for an injury. Playing without a headgear he gained more ground thru the line than any other back. This is his first year with Ohio and he is bound to do great things in his two remaining years.

RICHARD REINHOLD, End

"Dick" proved to the coaches that he could play an end position. In the Cincinnati game he caught a forward pass and carried it down the field which placed the Green and White squad in a position to score. He worried a great many of the opponents' backs by his "bear like" ways of spilling the interference. He played his first year on the Ohio squad.

ROY GILLEN, Halfback

"Red" did not break into many games this fall. The fleet footed halfback is one of the fastest men ever seen on Ohio field and when once he got away with the ball he was gone. Gillen broke his shoulder just before the Columbia game and his career on the 1921 football team of Ohio U. was brought to an abrupt close. "Red" will be back next year.

POLING, Halfback

Poling came to Ohio U. from Bethany. The West Virginia lad played at halfback and quarterback and played either position well. He ran through the entire Columbia team for ninety yards and scored Ohio's first touchdown against the New York school. He will mean added strength to the squad next year.

WILLIAM WALSH, Guard

"Bill" is an Athens High boy. He played three years with the Red and Black squad, served overseas with the Athens unit and then returned to Ohio to play football. "Bill" was sent in a number of times this year to stop a hole in the line. He usually succeeded in holding his own when called on.

COWDEN, End

Cowden did not participate in many games this fall, but he was found to be a willing worker at all times. He will be used more next year, as he has proven a valuable end.

STEENROD, Center

Steenrod did not get to show his ability this year as more experienced men were on the squad for his position. He will be back at the University next year and will no doubt be used on the line.

CHARLES BELL, End

"Charley" suffered a bruised shoulder in the middle of the season and was not called upon much after that. Previous to this time Bell had started at end several times and during the Morris Harvey game was played in the backfield. Charlie is sure to strengthen the team next fall.

RUSH, Halfback

Rush proved to have one of the most terrific drives of any man in the backfield. He was not as experienced as some of the other men and therefore did not start in many of the games. With more training he should prove to be a great help to the Green and White squad in the future.

GODDARD, Halfback

Goddard was much smaller than the rest of the Ohio backs and was not used in any of the regular games. The fleet Wheelston lad was used a great deal in scrimmages and proved that he was a thorough master of all departments of the game.

JEFFERS, Tackle

Jeffers dropped in on Athens from northern Ohio where he had played bangup football in high school. On arriving in Athens he undertook to show the coaching staff that he was a fighter. When placed on the Varsity squad he fought like a demon. Although he and Fisher were the smallest men on the Ohio line, they traveled some all year. In the Columbia game "Jeff's" shoulder was injured and he was forced to retire, and watched the Thanksgiving game from the side lines.

DUVALL, Halfback

"Mooney" came to Ohio with the reputation of a smashing backfield man. During his freshman year he tore open the Varsity line at will for long gains. At the opening of the season "Mooney" had his hand injured and he was not seen in the lineup much until the Columbia game. He smashed the line for long gains there. Although injured most of the season, he practiced every night and showed a willingness which is deserving of mention.

RAY O'DAFFER, Tackle

"Daff" came here from Ohio State where he had played a year on the Freshman team. The big Ashville boy was shifted on the line a great deal, playing either tackle or end. He was a good receiver of forward passes and should make a smashing end next season. He is another fighter.

CLEVERLY, Guard

Cleverly played his first year on the Varsity squad. Although he started very few games, the big Ashtabula chap was a fighter. He was a "bear" on defense and upset a great many plays sent in his direction.

FRESHMAN SQUAD OF 1921

It is to them that much of the success of the Varsity season may be attributed. The work of these huskies was well done as the first team will attest. Opposing a team that outweighed them the yearlings came out faithfully to practice in order to develop the Varsity Eleven. Next year these men will fill the gaps in the Green and White Eleven made vacant by graduation.

BASKETBALL

CLYDE BOWERS, Mgr.

1922 Basketball Season

The 1922 Basketball season was most successful. Ohio won second place in the Ohio Conference, having won eleven games and lost two. Coaches Finsterwald and Grover are certainly to be congratulated on the splendid machine which they molded.

Before the team had hit its pace Cincinnati took the measure of the Green and White, 26-11. The team rallied from this defeat administering sound trouncing to St. Xavier, Capital, Ohio Northern, Marietta and Mount Union. In the home game with St. Xavier, Ohio hit a decided slump, but came through 34-32. Revenge was sweet when Ohio defeated Cincinnati 32-13. This game showed the advantage of excellent coaching as Ohio completely bewildered Cincinnati by their offensive. Ohio Northern and Heidelberg were the next teams to fall before the drive of the Ohio basketeers. Marietta visited Athens and returned home much the worse for the trip, having been walloped 39-12. Mount Union again fell at the attack of the Ohio warriors. Denison's "Big Red" triumphed over the Green and White 29-25, thus putting the second defeat on the Ohio record. When the Denison team came to Athens for the last game of our season they were swept off their feet by the brilliant playing of Finsterwald's men, the game ending Ohio 36, Denison 16.

Every man with the exception of Earich, All-Ohio guard, will return to school next fall and with these men back, Ohio should have another big year in the Ohio Conference.

Basketball Squad of 1922

Top Row: HERRON, RICHARDS, BURKETT, MANAGER BOWERS, RHINEHOLD, HARDIN, LITTLER.

Second Row: COWDEN, O'DAFFER, BELL, COACH FINSTERWALD, EARICH, KING.

ODAFFER, Center

Ray Odaffer was the high scorer of the squad this year and many games have been marked up on the winning column by Ray's long shots and ability to work the ball down under the basket. Odaffer attended high school at Ashville, Ohio, and while playing there was considered one of the best cage men seen in southern Ohio. He is playing his first year for the Green and White and has been mentioned on the second team picked by Earl Prugh. He has two years yet on the squad, so the coaches will have little difficulty with the center position for the next two years.

BELL, Forward

Charlie Bell, playing forward for the Varsity squad, is a Parkersburg High product. While in high school he helped bring the championship of West Virginia to the river town. He was mentioned for an All-State forward during his high school days, and won several individual prizes at the state tournament held by Wesleyan University at Buchanan. Last season he was one of the mainstays of the freshman squad. Besides playing basketball, Bell plays halfback in football. He will be eligible for Varsity two more years, as this was his first year with the team.

EARICH, Guard

"Sim" has played his last Varsity basketball game for Ohio University. For three seasons he has held down the stationary guard position. Earich was given the All-State guard position this year and received honorable mention for that place last season. He has been a game fighter and the holding of some of the conference schools to small scores was made possible by the big Swede's hard playing. Earich is a three sport man, having played basketball three years, football four years, and won his baseball letter last spring. His shoes on the court will be hard to fill and Ohio is losing one of the greatest guards that ever donned a Green jersey.

BURKETT, Guard

This is Burkett's second year on the Green and White. "Ma" is fast and aggressive. His ability to cage 'em from the center of floor makes him a valued member of the team. Burkett will be seen in an Ohio uniform next year.

HERRON, Forward

This fleetly forward did not start playing with the team until the second semester. His first two games were against St. Xavier and Cincinnati when he took King's place. "Hungry" was considered in high school as one of the greatest forwards that ever appeared in the state tournament games at Delaware. He scored eight buckets during the Kenyon game and scored in nearly every contest he entered this season.

KING, Forward

King was declared ineligible at the close of the first semester, by the Athletic Council for having participated in three years of basketball. Without a doubt he is the greatest forward ever turned out at Ohio University and the winning of the conference championship last year can be greatly accredited to his wonderful style of game. No greater honor can be given to any man than was given to King by the Columbus Dispatch in speaking of his work as a forward. In the seven games he participated in during the first semester of the school year he scored 72 points.

COWDEN, Forward

Cowden alternated at center and forward during the season. He is fast and follows his shots well. Next year "Kie" should go big.

LITTLER, Guard

"Dutch" was used in but few games this year and was played at nearly all the positions. With the experience gained this year he will make a valuable man for the squad in his two remaining seasons of play. Littler comes from Athens High, where he was a three sport man. He proved himself a bear in football last fall. "Dutch" has two more years in all the sports.

CARL STOCKDALE, First Base, All-American.

"Stocky" played his last year for the team. He captained the team through a successful season, leading them to fourteen victories out of a possible twenty.

HERMAN EARICH, Third Base

Captain-elect Earich was a consistent performer at third base. He excelled both in the field and at the bat. When a hit was needed Earich could be counted on to come through for Ohio.

HOWARD KNOX, Second Base

Last year Knox made his debut in college baseball. He is a fast and aggressive player. His work during the nineteen twenty-one season proves that he will be a valuable asset to this year's team.

HARRY BARSTOW, Pitcher

A heady pitcher is a very rare personage in baseball, but the outstanding point of Barstow's mound work is the head work he uses. Combined with headwork, Barstow has plenty of speed. His loss on the pitching staff will be felt greatly.

FRANCIS FULLER, Center Field

Fuller is the possessor of three essentials of a good baseball player, he is a good fielder, an excellent batsman and his ability to peg has saved Ohio many a run.

SIM EARICH, Right Field

Although Sim did not join the squad until late in the season, he gave a good account of himself and should easily secure a berth on the 1922 team.

BOB LOOMIS, Pitcher

Loomis will be on the mound for Ohio this season and much is expected of him. Last year he won the majority of his games.

CHESTER WOLFE, Pitcher and Third Baseman

Wolfe worked hard whether at third or in the pitcher's box. "Chet" will be a member of the 1922 pitching staff.

GAIL ALLEN, Catcher

Allen had just hit his stride and was going big when while at practice he broke his ankle. This accident deprived the squad of an excellent ball player both catching behind the plate and in swinging the swat stick.

ANGUS KING, Short-stop

The past season was King's third year on the team. His services have been very valuable indeed. His fielding is fast and while batting he specializes in line drives.

"GUSSIE" WHITE, Second Baseman

Gus wasn't in uniform at the first of the season, but nevertheless he played his usual good brand of ball.

TOM MORGAN, Left Field

A dependable man fielding and batting consistently.

DICK WYMAN, Utility Fielder

The scoreboard gives to Wyman the credit of smashing out the first home run to be made at home last season.

HOMER SKINNER, Catcher

With his peg he has arrested many foes in their attempt to steal. The team worked well with Skinner behind the plate.

FERRY CADY, Manager

Ferry was a great aid to the squad. He gave freely of his time that the team might have the best advantage at all times.

"SID" BECKERT, Mgr.

Intercollegiate Wrestling

Back Row: MGR. GROW, EDWARDS, DUVALL, MELICK, CROOK, COACH OLSON.
Second Row: MORGAN, O'NEIL, STEELE, CAPT. HICKMAN.
Third Row: CALVERT.

Olson's squad of mat men created much interest in the sport during the 1922 season. Matches were held with Ohio State, Columbus; West Virginia University, Morgantown; and at Athens, Kentucky State, Lexington, Ky., and the University of Cincinnati, at Athens, Ohio.

Captain Hickman, the veteran in the 135 pound class, made a good record. He secured a fall from his opponent in every match except at Kentucky State. Hickman's success can be attributed to the aggressiveness he shows each minute of the bout.

O'Neil, another veteran in the 135 pound class, did fine work and never failed to give his foe a lively fight.

Calvert, 115 pound man, took part in every match. He secured several falls and showed a knowledge of the sport.

Morgan, the man with the fight in the 125 pound class, evinced a marked improvement as a result of his constant training.

Steele, 145 pound class, only took part in two matches, but was a valuable asset to the team by being out to train regularly.

Crook, Newhart and Peterson made good in their class. Crook received an injury during practice which kept him off the team part of the season.

Melick, in the 175 pound class, held his place on the team the entire season. This was his first year, but he was one of the team's most dependable members.

Edwards and Duvall met the comers in the heavyweight class. Edwards, tho it was his first season, is a promising mat man.

Several of the men were inexperienced, but thru the hard and consistent training administered by Coach Olson, the team was able to make a good showing. Wrestling has been recognized by the Athletic Council and will receive the recognition of a minor letter sport. Letters are awarded to those meeting the requirements.

Wrestling is fast becoming a recognized part of college athletics. The prospects for Ohio U. for next year are excellent. With the schedule that is being arranged you may look for keener competition and a greater interest in this phase of college activity.

Boxing, Fencing and Swimming

Boxing, Fencing and Swimming are at present minor sports on the campus. This year renewed interest has been evidenced in these sports and they are steadily growing in popularity. Through the growth of these sport comes an ever increasing demand for recognition. A swimming team has been organized. Boxing and Fencing, although not as far advanced as Swimming, will undoubtedly soon organize teams to represent our school. Under splendid instructors, Boxing, Fencing and Swimming are fast gaining places among the sports at Ohio University.

Cross Country Run

Thor Olson promoted a most successful Cross Country Run this year for the first time in many years. When the starter raised his pistol sixteen men were ready to start at the sound of his gun. The distance to be covered was three and a half miles. Out of the sixteen starters thirteen finished the race. The man to first cross the line was Bill O'Neil. Second place was won by E. F. Evans and third place went to Kenneth Morris. The Cross Country Run aroused intense interest and it is to be hoped that Mr. Olson will see fit to make this event an annual affair.

Track

The year of 1921 and 1922 has seen a great revival of sports at Ohio University. Wrestling and Swimming have been added to the list of sports. The opening of spring brings the call for track men. Representatives of the Green and White have long been lacking in the track meets of the state. The material at Ohio this year is plentiful and excellent. When the call for track is made this spring there will be many high school record-holders among the candidates. The enlargement of the Ohio Field gives the track men the advantage of working out on a half mile track, while plenty of room can be had for field events. Coach Grover and Trainer Olson will have a splendid opportunity to develop a winning team. The meets that have been scheduled will afford Ohio a good chance to step into the limelight with her track team. Denison, who always has an excellent group of sprinters and field men, will oppose Ohio in a dual meet. The other dual meet is with Miami, who placed fourth in the 1921 Big Six meet. The sectional meet will be staged at Cincinnati. The track season will close for Ohio with the Big Six at Columbus.

Student Union

FORECAST of the great future that is in store for Ohio University and especially of the greater cooperation of men on the campus, is to be seen in the timely purchase of the Masonic Temple. This act marked the beginning of Dr. Bryan's constructive efforts in his career as president, to extend the sphere and intensify the spirit of America's oldest institution of higher learning.

This latest addition to the number of campus buildings cost the sum of $90,000 and is intended to be the center of all major university activities and functions. It has been renamed the "Student Union" and such official organizations as the Green and White, the Athena, the Green Goat, and the office of the University Pastor are to be established there.

Especially is it designed to be the headquarters for the men in the future. Several men students have secured rooms for the past semester in the building. A dining hall for men is located in the basement and is furnishing meals to a good number at a very low price. The "lodge room" on the second floor is to be used as a "little theater" and pictures will be shown occasionally.

Student Arms Delegate

At Chapel exercises on November 30, Gilbert J. Shaver was chosen to represent Ohio University in "The National Student Committee for the Limitation of Armament." Mr. Shaver was chosen by Cresset and Torch and was unanimously elected by the student body as the one most capable of representing Ohio University. Mr. Shaver is a Junior in the Arts College and is quite prominent in campus activities. He holds membership in Torch and several other honorary organizations, is assistant editor of the Green and White and has been a member of the debating teams for the last two years.

In the performance of his duties, Mr. Shaver has carried out locally the plans of the national organization which were to stimulate among college students an interest in the issues of the Washington Conference, to mobilize, and to formulate an expression relative thereto. The national organization is composed of undergraduates representing each institution taking part in the movement.

THE YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The Young Men's Christian Association of Ohio University is an indigenous spiritual campus movement of students and faculty for the following purposes:

To lead students to faith in God through Jesus Christ.

To lead students into membership and service in the Christian church.

To promote their faith fundamentally through prayer and Bible study as well as to stimulate well rounded development in mind and body.

To promote a positive moral and religious college spirit.

To challenge students to devote themselves in united effort with all Christians, to make the will of Christ effective in human society, and extend the Kingdom of God throughout the world.

The Young Women's Christian Association at Ohio University was organized in 1897 and was affiliated with the National Board October 27, 1906.

The interest and membership has grown rapidly. Especially since 1913, for at that time there came to the campus a capable and much interested Dean of Women in the person of Dean Voigt.

For the last three years the Y. W. C. A. has done extensive work among the people in the mining towns near Athens. The girls have conducted Sunday Schools in three towns, a fourth being added this spring; this work has been done under the auspices of the Missions Committee.

The social Service Committee sponsors the following: The three-story hours in Athens and three in mining communities; one mothers' club in mining community at request of mothers, and camp fire organization in mining community, bi-monthly programs given at Children's Home, and alternate bi-monthly programs at the Infirmary. The Christmas parties, which this year reached five hundred children; weekly visits to fifteen "shut-in" in Athens.

The Social Committee sponsors four mixers, these are given jointly with the Y. M. C. A. Several get-togethers with our girl friends in Athens who are working in the stores, factories, and offices. The committee also arranges hospitality for all Association visitors and is entirely responsible for the annual banquet.

The Finance Committee is entirely responsible for the raising of the budget outside of dues and gifts.

These are only a part of the activities of the Association,—space does not permit more than mere reference to our Summer Conference at Eaglesmere, our relation with the friendship circles in the two High Schools, our Bible classes in the churches, our sister college in China, and our material support of a Secretary in Fukien, our weekly meetings which are sometimes in the form of open discussions and sometimes in form of talks by friends from the outside.

Backing and supporting all these activities is an active and enthusiastic Advisory Board of faculty wives and town women. The Association feels itself greatly indebted to this board for both sympathetic and material support.

The Woman's League is the largest social organization on Ohio's campus. It was founded in 1913, under the leadership of Irma E. Voigt, Dean of Women. Since that time the organization has grown rapidly. The purpose of the league is to boost Ohio and to lend a helping hand whenever necessary. Its principles are thoroughly democratic and any girl enrolled in the University is eligible for membership. A number of receptions and other social affairs are given thruout the year.

The organization maintains a League Loan Fund which is supported through the membership fees and the proceeds from the Skit shows which the girls present each spring.

Gentle reader, in these pages
Your name may be writ.
Deem it honor to be mentioned
E'en though you be hit.

If the mention does not please you
Curb your wrath, we plead
Kindly fun can't harm you greatly.
Come now let us read!

Getting Wise

When I first came to college here, my thoughts of school were surely queer. I promised Pa I'd study hard, and send home letters by the yard. Said I, "I want what this school hath of hardest Green, and Trig, and Math. So sign me up with hours sixteen—I'm here to study. Thank you, Dean." And so with Scott I took up Greek, and met with him three times a week. In Math I had to slave and dig, for I was taking Borger's Trig. The year passed on and I came out with grades that I can boast about. I sent home letters every day, although I hadn't much to say.

The second year I joined a frat and things were different after that. Instead of spending time with Scott, with pretty girls I spent a lot. I learned to dance the latest jig and didn't give a hang for Trig. My letters home were far between, and I got called before the Dean. "See here," he said, "your grades of late are pointing at the kick-out gate. Your work last year was rated A—I think you're idling time away. On study get another grip or from our school you'll take a trip. Get out your Greek and read it through, or you'll be leaving Ohio U."

I knew my work was very punk, and yet I didn't want to flunk. I didn't want to tell folks lies that I'd quit school on account my eyes. I curbed my time with Alpha Gams, and crammed each night for stiff exams. I paid a student sawbucks three, to work my Trig each day for me, and I reviewed from front to back, each book that I had in the rack. I knew the course I had was wrong, for some were easy as a song, and guys who loafed away their days, were pulling down their B's and A's. Said I—"Next year this guy will not, take up this hard old tommyrot."

This year I'm happy as a lark, spend my evenings in the park, and never miss a dance or show, and every girl in school I know. Instead of taking courses, tough, I've learned to run the students' bluff. I'm taking Hoover's Historie and Ash's Sociology. Mackinnon's English comes in fine to help out on this course of mine, and I am pulling C's and B's, and doing it with lots of ease. Oh, I have learned for an A. B. there isn't any use for me to spend my days in study hard, and writing theses by the yard. Yep, I'm as happy as can be—I'm the average student now, you see.

From The Lindley Hall Follies

LINDLEY HALL FOLLIES, 1922

In Lindley Hall one night, 'tis said
 When all was still and dark,
 The girls put on a keen, old show
 Quite up to Ziegfield's mark.

Their costumes were quite gorgeous,
 All were the soul of wit.
 With everyone who saw them
 Those gowns did make a hit.

The skits were gay and clever,
 The costumes fitted well.
 But the Matron didn't approve of them,
 For all the girls caught — cold.

KAY ALSTON: "Girls, isn't it funny? Easter came on Sunday last year, too!"

PEG FULLER: "We call this period the Dark Ages because there were so many knights."

MONTY CAMPBELL: "Profs here are sure slow. Not a one has passed me yet."

GWEN SAYLOR: "I'm going to buy Fred a football sweater with an 'O' on it, next Christmas."

MAC: "I wrote a swell story for the English Club, but Patty got hold of it and tore it up."

JEFF: "Why, I didn't know she could read yet."

ELIZABETH: "When are you thinking of graduating?"

FRED JOHNSON: "Constantly."

COPELAND: "What's the name for a dentist's office—a parlor?"

ARMSTRONG: "Might call it a filling station."

COPELAND: "If I died and still owed you fifty dollars, could you collect?"

ARMSTRONG: "Yes, but I'd have a hot time doing it."

"MOONY" DUVAL: "Mackinnon, you won't accept this book review?"

MCKINNON: "Absolutely not."

"MOONY": "But you accepted one exactly like it."

"The life so short, the craft so long to learn."

For the sake of those who do not know Mr. Eves (almost everyone does know him) it will only be necessary to say that he is the somewhat wizened student of mature years who of late has been seen flitting like a bird to and fro about the campus. Well, he is leaving and soon will be seen no more—at least for the present. Ultimately, of course, it is his intention to return and to resume his education. If Mr. Eves were to live ten thousand years, he would return at intervals to resume his education. He finds education somewhat like the famous Hydra which Hercules struggled with. Every time Hercules cut off one of the heads of the Hydra, two new heads grew in its place. Likewise every time Mr. Eves completes a college course, several more courses spring up where the old one was. He is the Wandering Jew among college generations, appearing faithfully epoch after epoch. He must have several thousand hours of college credit, enough to graduate an entire senior class. But for the present he is leaving us again for one of his sporadic sojourns into the world.

Perhaps the most unique experiment which he carried out in the last year was to Wordsworthize the campus with a camera. His aspiration was to show through carefully taken photographs that we are moving about in worlds not realized. His success was little short of amazing. No one ever beheld the romantic glimpses of the campus which these photographs reveal until he found them. In a way it might be said that the O. U. campus was discovered by Edward Holt Eves in the summer and fall of 1921.

He regards education as an end in itself, not as a means to an end. He reverses the usual process. To him life is a preparation for college instead of college being a preparation for life. To him a college course is a long-awaited delight and not a beastly bore. He probably does not deliberately plan the kind of life he leads. He no doubt plans to go out and do things in the world just as any other student does, and, ultimately, no doubt he plans to remain there. But the university has a charm and a fascination for him that he simply cannot resist. There are, he always reasons, just a few more courses which he must have before he quits. These courses lead to other courses, new vistas open up, Alps on Alps arise, and Mr. Eves still finds himself a student in spite of himself.

The Shifters

Say, are you a shifter,
Have you joined the shifters' frat?
It surely is a lifter,
Good-bye money, coat and hat.

It started rather frisky
At fifteen plunks a quart,
A gallon of good whiskey
Was demanded of a sport.

Some people got off easy,
With just a treat or so;
But the rest of us got dizzy
When we read what we must do.

Poor Tommy and his cigarettes!
That was an awful blow;
Some people paid off all their debts
With shifters don't you know?

The saddest words that ever came
From off a shifter's pen
Are these—or very near the same,
"I'm broke—give me a ten."

Now I suggest to all of you
To give your Dad the grip,
And shift a hundred plunks or two,
Ye wearers of the clip.

Do You Know?

1. One of O. U.'s professors attended Harvard.
2. Which Dean's head resembles a billiard ball?
3. Who buys Dick McKinstry's clothes.
4. Bill Leeper dares not enter Howard Hall.
5. Which Skidmore is in your class.
6. When O. B. Barber will graduate.
7. Ash's famous stories.
8. Whitehouse has gone in for Art.
9. Lindley Hall serves hot biscuits, ham and eggs for breakfast.
10. "Bud" McGinley goes to church.
11. Gooley and Cooley?
12. What happened to the Nicotine Club.
13. The requirements for Cresset.
14. "Red" Ross never cuts classes.
15. The latest scandal.

Dear Paul:

It gives me great joy to assure you that I think you will certainly meet with success as a politician. All the political chicanery you have learned while on the campus will serve you well to retain. One as clever as you can profit much by close observation. Don't be afraid to start at the bottom. Shine the political bosses' boots, and get their line of talk; don't smoke expensive cigars nor wear your party clothes when among your constituents lest they know you are an aristocrat. Of course this will be a hard blow to you, P. J., but it's all preparatory to success.

Joyfully yours,

THE GHOST.

O. U. Co-ed Room

There are hair nets on the dresser,
 And powder in the drawer.
 And underneath her little cot
 One sees an apple core.

There are boxes filled with chocolates
 And silk hose on her chair;
 But, just beside her box of rouge,
 Lies a huge mass of hair.

On the wall's a tennis racket,
 Beside a pair of skates.
 And underneath her penant green
 Is her calendar of dates.

Her bathing suit and gym outfit
 Lay scattered o'er the room;
 And on her trunk's a chafing dish—
 She's bound to meet her doom!

For inspection day's the day of fate;
 The matron peeks inside,
 And asks the co-ed what's the cause—
 Result—she wish she'd died!

My Dear Kepler:

In answer to your letter I would advise you not to enter the sordid practical world. Marry Emma and go back in the woods where you can live a life close to nature.

These are my reasons for this advice: First, they would never put such a pondrous name as yours in the directory; second, so pure a soul as yours should never be contaminated by contact with the coarse sinful world; thirdly, your disposition toward E. J. prompts me to say that you should give her your entire time as her company is evidently more acceptable than that of anyone else.

Sympathetically,

THE GHOST.

The doughboy who had to walk three miles to get a drink has nothing on the present day college student. He has to go farther than that.

THE STUDENT REPENTS

When ye were in school at Ohio U,
 I told a young co-ed I loved her so
 That there wasn't a thing that I wouldn't do
 My love to her to make a show.
 But since we've been engaged a year
 I don't feel quite the same. It's funny
 But I've found that love is too darn dear
 For a student who looks to dad for money.

IMAGINATION

(Seen One)

Dean Chubb running down the street, smoked glasses on, wearing a gym suit, carrying a lard can full of golf balls in one hand and a textbook on "Masters of English Literature" in the other, whistling "Everybody Works But Father," headed for the golf links.

(Seen, Too)

His wife at his heels, no glasses on, dressed in an evening gown, carrying a baseball bat in one hand and two tickets to a concert given by the Ladies' Music Club in the other, humming "It's My Move Now," headed for the golf links.

(Seen Three)

Dean Chubb and his wife at the Women's Music Club concert, the Dean having no glasses on, wearing a dress suit, carrying a large bruise on one hand and three blisters on the other, mumbling "I Need Sympathy," headed no place.

YOUNG CO-ED (On a visit with her chum from the country): "I do hope that you keep your cows in a pasture.

HER FRIEND'S MOTHER: "Yes, of course, we keep them in a pasture."

YOUNG CO-ED: "Well, I'm so glad. 'Cause Daddy Dunlap told our class that pasteurized milk is always best."

"Whatsoever a man seweth, that shall he also rip," said the young student as he felt his sleeve pull loose from his coat while sitting with his arm around his one of many.

We Like to Help Young Men!

The young man is an object of particular interest to this Bank. We want to help him to get a start and then to get ahead.

The future of our country is in the hands of its young people. Many of them do not seem to realize their responsibility as young citizens of the Greatest Country in the world. Happily, however, there are many who do, and when we see young people who seem to appreciate duty, who have ambition and energy, then there is pleasure in watching them and in helping them.

A Gateway to Progress

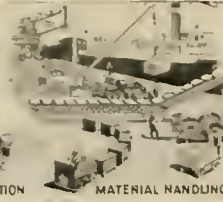

There it stands—a simple forty-foot gateway but unlike any other in the entire world. Through it have come many of the engineering ideas that have made this an electrical America.

The story of electrical development begins in the Research Laboratories. Here the ruling spirit is one of knowledge—truth—rather than immediate practical results. In this manner are established new theories—tools for future use—which sooner or later find ready application.

The great industries that cluster around Niagara Falls, the electrically driven battleships, the trolley cars and electrified railways that carry millions, the lamps that glow in homes and streets, the household conveniences that have relieved women of drudgery, the labor-saving electrical tools of factories, all owe their existence, partly at least, to the co-ordinated efforts of the thousands who daily stream through this gateway.

— V & K —

There is no element that enters into the genuine enjoyment of life to the extent that water does. It is the attribute of health, beauty, comfort, convenience and utility. "V & K" Water Supply Systems have perfected economical water distribution and contentment and entire satisfaction are assured in homes where "V & K" is installed.

McKinnon is a good old sport,
He has never requested a long report.
I'll tell you why
(This is no lie),
Paper grading is not his forte.

"Now I lay me down to rest,
Before I take tomorrow's test;
If I should die before I wake,
Thand heaven, I'll have heaven's test to take."

Our idea of having a good time at a mixer is sitting around the wall of the Student Union ballroom while a jazzy orchestra renders "Ain't We Got Fun?"
